HAMILTON DEFEATS UNION

Last Friday night the Varsity defeated Union by the decisive score of 47-28. The game was hard fought and it was not until the second half that Hamilton began to draw away from the visitors. At this time the signal plays began to work and Union was powerless.

Union started the scoring with a single in the first half and had things all her own way, getting the jump on the Hamilton team. At this time the team seemed asleep and barely nosed out of the first half of the game ahead, 17-14. Between the halves, however, Coach Risley called for thirty points in the second half and the team responded with just that number, while Union could only get fourteen. When once aroused, Sherwin was the star of the game. He threw twice as many baskets as his opponent, but was late in getting started and poor in covering. The team as a whole, when it began to play, gave a snappy exhibition.

Regin, who tok Roenke's place, was the only substitute used. He played a good floor game.

The line-up follows:

HAMILTON 47		UNION 18
Roenke (Regin)		Clowe (Charest)
	Left Forward
Allen		Coward
	Right Forward
Sherwin		Smith
	Center
Getman		Anderson
	Left Guard
Conklin		Brown
	Right Guard

Baskets: Roenke, Allen 7, Sherwin 10, Getman 3, Conklin, Coward, Smith, 5, Brown 2, Clowe 4. From foul, Roenke 3, Allen, Coward 2, Brown 2.

Referee, Sicard. Umpire Kuolt, '07. Timer, Wallace. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

SENATOR ROOT

Hamilton has few sons of whom she is more proud than Elihu Root, who is now retiring from the Secretaryship of State, after a term of remarkable service, to take a seat in the United States Senate. It was with gratification that the news of his nomination was received. And this was increased by the fact that the nominating speech was made by Senator Davenport, on whom, being an adopted son, Hamilton also has a claim.

Senator Davenport referred to Mr. Root's character and achievements and then spoke of his early life. "It was within the environs of a little old-fashioned country College, where his father taught, that he first saw the light. It is to this ancestral home of his boyhood and young manhood that he is wont to retire at intervals from the stress of a life which latterly has been given wholly to the service of his country.

His record of high-minded public service is eloquent. Nothing has characterized his career so much as moral insight. For nearly a decade he has been the most potent counsellor in the executive branch of the national government. His own state policies have been the clearest possible interpretation of the true spirit of democracy, which is the spirit not only of national but of international brotherhood.

The secret of Elihu Root's public career is not primarily to be sought in political influence. It is the triumph of a brilliant intellect sobered by earnest determination and guided by moral purpose. Rich is that commonwealth which may have as its representative in the Senate of the United States one who commands the respect and admiration not only of the State of New York but of all the states, not only of the Nation but of the world."

The nomination of Mr. Root was made unanimous.

NEW YORK ALUMNI REUNION

The Hamilton Alumni held their 41st Annual Reunion at Hotel Astor, New York, on the evening of January Fifteenth. Enthusiasm ran riot when James S. Sherman, '78, rose to respond to the toast, "The Hamilton College Man." About 200 alumni tried earnestly to outdo each other in the vigor of their reception to the guest of honor. The demonstration was repeated when Dr. Stryker arose.

After the proper atmosphere had been created by the singing of Hamilton songs, Vice-President-Elect Sherman paid a high tribute to Hamilton and her sons who are doing her honor the world over. Among these Elihu Root was mentioned, for whom the speaker expressed his high regard. At this the applause broke forth anew. Mr. Sherman expressed his belief in a policy of naval extension and received an ovation peculiarly Hamiltonian.

Dr. Stryker followed with an emphatic endorsement of Mr. Root's candidacy for senatorial honors. He represented the College as being unanimous in their support of him.

Among the other speakers were Prof. Francis Marion Burdick, '69, Col. William M. Griffith, '80, and Warren I. Lee, '99.

ORATION AWARDS

Dr. Stryker gave out the following awards, in Chapel yesterday morning, for the Class of 1909.

The Forty-seventh Pruyn Medal Oration was awarded to Birmingham; subject, "Surreptitious Political Leadership."

The Thirty-seventh Kirkland Prize Oration was awarded to Baum. His subject was "Alexander Hamilton and Written Constitutions."

No awards were given for the Forty-sixth Head Prize Oration, nor for the Eighteenth Soper Prize Thesis.

THE BOWLING CLUB

The bowling season is here and thirty-five members have already joined the club. The membership, however, is not yet large enough to start either the Interfraternity or Individual Tournaments. The Interfraternity Tournament will be run on this winter according to the same plan as followed last year. The Up Hill and Down Hill crowds will roll in a primary tournament and will be rated according to their percentage. The leaders will then roll each other to decide the championship. It is hoped that both tournaments can be started this week, and in order to make them a success the men should start practicing as soon as possible, so that the best bowlers can be selected for each team.

Titus, '10, holds the record for individual score, both for this year and last. He rolled 244 on the alleys last Tuesday. Marriott, '09, is second with 220.

The interest in this sport seems to be picking up. With the beginning of the year there was not the enthusiasm that characterized last year's bowling. It is a good sport and fine exercise. Let's get the benefit of it. Join the Bowling Club: not tomorrow—today.

FRESHMAN STATISTICS

"Uncle John" has completed the Freshman Class statistics. They follow: Oldest man, West, 31 yrs. 5 mos; youngest man, Walker, 16 yrs. 5 mos.; tallest, Dorrance, 6 ft. 2.2 in.; shortest, DuBordeau, 5 ft. 3 in.; heaviest, Drummond, 187 lbs.; lightest, West, 105 lbs.; best in chinning the bar, Ottaway, 13 times; best in dips, Donaldson and Bell, 13 times; best grip, Bell, 58 kilograms; best lift, Wenigmann, 330 kilo.; lung strength, Walker, 320 grams; lung capacity, Wenigmann, 330 cu. in.; chest expansion, D. S. Root and Marsh, 5 in.; arm stretch, Wenigmann, 6 ft. 5 in.; number taught to swim, 5.

BASEBALL

The tentative Baseball Schedule for 1909 is as follows:

April 21, Utica Free Academy at Clinton; April 24, Utica State League at Clinton; April 26, Rochester University at Clinton; April 28, Syracuse University at Syracuse; May 1, Utica State League at Utica Park; May 7, Union University at Clinton; May 14, Hobart College at Clinton; May 25, Rochester University at Rochester; May 26, Hobart College at Geneva; May 29, R. P. I. at Troy; May 31, Union University at Schenectady; June 2, Colgate University at Clinton; June 5, Colgate University at Hamilton.

This schedule is yet to be submitted to the Faculty, but will undoubtedly meet with their approval. The schedule is not as comprehensive as we might wish for, but, considering the restrictions and limitations with which Manager Wheeler has had to contend, conditions have developed much more favorably than was at first expected.

Owing to an action of the Faculty whereby the season had to be limited to ten games, an eastern trip including games with Union, R. P. I. and Trinity had to be given up. At first the eastern trip seemed to be more desirable than the western one, but owing to our connection with the N. Y. S. I. A. U. the colleges of that league had to be given a place on the schedule. This made the Trinity game an impossibility.

The selection of a coach has not yet been made, altho the management has in mind several good men.

New uniforms have been ordered of a style similar to those of last season.

Captain Judson held a battery practice in the Gymnasium Wednesday and has decided to devote three days a week to battery practice and two days to the squad. Early practice is necessary this year, owing to an exceptionally early season. All Freshmen who have any baseball ability are urged to report for indoor practice. Candidates for Assistant Manager should hand in their names to Manager Wheeler, '10, or Assistant Manager S. Jones, '11.

—During Junior Week, probably on Friday, there will be a Basketball game between the Varsity and an alumni team. The lin-up has not yet been decided upon.

FRATERNITY DANCES

The program of Fraternity dances for Junior week has been arranged as follows:

On the evening of Wednesday February 10th, Sigma Phi, Chi Psi, Theta Delta Chi, and E. L. S.

On the evening of Friday, the 12th, Alpha Delta Phi, Psi Upsilon, Delta Upsilon, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

UNION DEBATE

At a meeting of the upperclassmen, held Friday morning directly after Chapel, Dr. Stryker proposed that the three debaters and one alternate for the Union Debate be selected from the Interclass debaters by a committee to be appointed later. This method of choosing the representatives for the College was agreed upon. Dr. Stryker announced that the Union team had submitted the question, "Resolved that the tariff should be removed from Canadian Lumber." Hamilton is to choose the side.

SENATOR ROOT. CONGRATULATIONS! In another place in this issue an account is given of the nomination of Hamilton's most honored son to the United States Senate to succeed Senator Platt. Since this nomination is by the majority of both Houses, it is equivalent to an election. Hence it is fitting that we should extend our hearty congratulations to the new Senator from the Empire State. In receiving the nomination to this office, Elihu Root has added another honor to his political career, and incidentally to his Alma Mater. Hamilton is proud of her loyal son. That his career in the Senate will be just as successful as his long public life in Roosevelt's Cabinet, we may be sure. He will bring honor, both to himself and the great state which he represents.

LIFE IS PLEASED TO LEARN that the Junior Prom. Committee has decided in favor of stopping the dance at 3 a. m. Looking at it from every viewpoint, the action is in the direction of decency and sanity. Surely we owe it to the patronesses to finish dancing at a more reasonable hour than has been our custom. Looking at it selfishly, the total pleasure of the week will be increased if we reserve some of our capacity for entertainment, and our energy to entertain, for the following day and night. And if we seek the artistic, the step is desirable. Moderation should be a rule without exception.

THE NEXT GREAT COLLEGE EVENT is Junior Week. We all look forward to it and anticipate its good times for weeks previous to its occurrence. And when, at last, it does arrive, we have a good time. When it is over we are, perhaps, tired, but generally happy. Now, since this is essentially a College function, let every one of us, as a unit of the College, do our best to make it a great success. Every one who possibly can do so should attend. Altho given by the Juniors, it is not a class function. The Prom. is for every man in College who cares to attend. If you have not already decided to go, it is not too late now. Let's all turn out and make this year's Junior Week a success.

THERE HAS RECENTLY BEEN printed a number of bird's-eye views of the entire Campus and buildings. They are copies of a wash drawing, and are almost perfect in reproduction. Showing, as they do, the College in its beautiful total, one glance would be sufficient to prejudice any man in favor of Hamilton. The picture suggests itself as being pre-eminently appropriate for the purpose of advertisement among the preparatory schools. To have these pictures hanging in the buildings would, to a great extent, help to attract men to the College. As the pictures sell nominally for $5 (tho for this month the price is $4), purchase of these by the Press Club is financially impossible. The other way to accomplish this end is to have the men of a certain preparatory school co-operate to make their early Alma Mater a present of one of these pictures. This seems to be the only feasible means to accomplish an end, which LIFE believes would be of great value to Hamilton

LIFE therefore suggests the plan and earnestly hopes it may bear fruit.

ALL WHO HAVE THE INTEREST of the College at heart—and in this the undergraduates should be foremost—must realize what an insignificant protection against fire there is for our splendid equipment of buildings. True, there is fire hose in one or two of the buildings, yes, there is an old cart back of Knox Hall. But, who knows whether this same so-called "fire hose" will even hold water? Who knows whether the wheels on the hose cart will turn? How many of the undergraduates know how to fasten a hose on a hydrant? The chances are that if one of the buildings should take fire, it would be beyond redemption before any effort could be made to check it.

Here is a chance for Applied Athletics. Most of us have more or less time to spare. How could we use it better than in a fire-drill of some kind? In case of a fire on the Campus, if there were men who knew the right thing to do at the right time, serious loss might be averted. It, at least, can do no harm, and in case of emergency, a well-organized "volunteer fire company" would accomplish considerable. Think it over.

To the Editor of LIFE—

I should like to offer a critique of the January "Lit."

Let me start by saying that it is the best number the present regime has given us.

Rudd's letter is fine—as good a contribution as has been printed from his pen.

The article by Reed, '98, is exceptionally good. He was evidently careful to weigh and consider each statement. The result is an article worth while. I hope that two or three more articles of this sort will follow.

"The Travels of a Donkey" improve as they come. I understand that there is to be only one more. If we may pass such a judgment, they should have begun with the last one (No. 2.) Not that the first was poor, but because it was a rather long and unnecessary introduction to these which have been so much better.

"The Six Pomegranate Seeds" is badly marred by typographical errors, and that leads me to remark that the "Lit." proof-reading is very poorly done. Someone should be more careful. Something serious is wrong with "The syren-singing fife—The Snare?" Evidently a line is omitted and another misplaced. This is slip-shod, and the "Lit." Board should be above such criticism. The poem might have been very good as written. There are some good lines—but who read the proof?

The "Nocturne in Several Colors" furnishes us with just about enough of that sort of story. It is well told, but it is neither new nor brilliant. Paradise Lost in the June number was much better. Let us get away from such themes in a college literary magazine.

The Editorial is good. It is a good suggestion for all loyal sons of Hamilton.

The Campus Ode of itself is sufficient to redeem Dounce from the condemnation of his story and his proof-reading. I never before heard the well referred to as the "Kirkland Well, but that matters little. The poem is a jewel—one of the best of a fine series. It looks well, too, with the border to show it off.

The Spectral Spectator is of unusual excellence. With this number and the last we have grown to appreciate "Spec." I think, tho, Billeken's glasses would have shown some recognition of the excellent work the Y. M. C. A. is doing for the Italian boys in Utica if they had been used more carefully.

There should have been more Hill Notes.

Alumniana is always good. We have such fine alumni we can't help being pleased with notes about them. But for all that, the task of writing up their deeds is no sinecure.

The matter of typographical errors should be looked after. It the printer is at fault he should be called upon for a mending of his ways. It looks more like careless proof-reading, and the editor should see that it is done more carefully. I marked nine mistakes in one hurried reading thru the magazine. That is about nine too many.
